DETAILED ACTION

Please note the change in the Examiner of record.

Claims 1-57 are pending with claims 13-16 and 18-57 withdrawn from consideration. Claims 1-12 and 17 are under examination as they read on the elected subject matter.

Applicant's amendment has necessitated a new ground of rejection. Accordingly, this Action is FINAL.

Information Disclosure Statement

The information disclosure statement (IDS) submitted on 4/13/11 was filed after the mailing date of the Office Action on 10/14/10. The submission is in compliance with the provisions of 37 CFR 1.97. Accordingly, the information disclosure statement is being considered by the examiner.

Withdrawn rejections:

Applicant's amendments and arguments filed 4/13/11 are acknowledged and have been fully considered. Any rejection and/or objection not specifically addressed below is herein withdrawn.

The following rejections and/or objections are either reiterated or newly applied. They constitute the complete set of rejections and/or objections presently being applied to the instant application.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

Claims 1-12 and 17 remain/are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Alberto (WO 01/25243).

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

The reference teaches the transition metal carbonyl complex of the instantly claimed species, specifically H_3BCO_2 and an aqueous solution, which is a pharmaceutically acceptable carrier. (See abstract; p. 2 and claims 1-9, 13 and 22). The reference also teaches the corresponding Na cation (p. 2 lines 25-31; p. 4 lines 6-10). It would be obvious to a one of ordinary skill in the art to choose Na from the list of salts disclosed at p. 4 to make the corresponding cation. Picking the appropriate salt form as a matter of routine optimization is within the purview of a skilled artisan.

The claims are directed to a pharmaceutical composition comprising a boranocarbonate compound or ion, and the intended use "for the...vasodilation or smooth muscle relaxation by CO as a physiologically effective agent." The intended use is not given patentable weight: a recitation of the intended use of the claimed invention must result in a structural difference between the claimed invention and the prior art in order to patentably distinguish the claimed invention from the prior art. If the prior art structure is capable of performing the intended use, then it meets the claim.

Also, regarding the intended use of "vasodilation or smooth muscle relaxation by CO" the reference teaches the use of the carbonyl complexes in "circumstances wherein a CO source is required" (see page. 7), thus teaching the CO-donating property of the composition.

In light of the forgoing discussion, the Examiner concludes that the subject matter defined by the instant claims would have been obvious within the meaning of 35 USC 103(a).

From the teachings of the references, it is apparent that one of ordinary skill in the art would have had a reasonable expectation of success in producing the claimed invention. Therefore, the invention as a whole was prima facie obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made, as evidenced by the references, especially in the absence of evidence to the contrary.

Response to Arguments:

Applicant asserts that Alberto does not teach or suggest a pharmaceutically acceptable carrier as recited in claim 1. Respectfully, the Examiner cannot agree because Alberto teaches the composition in an aqueous solution, hence water, which is a pharmaceutically acceptable carrier.

Applicant argues a different use of the CO source from what Alberto teaches. Respectfully, this argument is not persuasive because while it is noted that the reference does not teach that the composition can be used in the manner instantly claimed, the intended use of the claimed composition does not patentably distinguish the composition, per se, since such undisclosed use is inherent in the reference composition. In order to be limiting, the intended use must create a structural difference between the claimed composition and the prior art composition. In the instant case, the intended use does not create a structural difference, thus the intended use is not limiting.

Respectfully, these arguments are not persuasive and the claims remain rejected.

Conclusion

No claims are allowed.

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
